Our transit food packaging

Thermal solutions

1 Choose your liner

Corrugated liners offer an excellent level of insulation with an array of environmental benefits

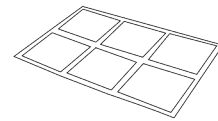

Premium foil liners provide a good level of insulation at a fair price

Standard foil liners provide a sufficient level of insulation at the most competitive price

2 Choose your coolant

Ice sheets need to be submerged in water before freezing and offer the ability to cover a larger surface area

Gel packs are ready to freeze straight from the box making them hassle free

3 Choose your outer carton

Single wall outer cartons offer an extra single layer of corrugate giving a good level of insulation

Double wall outer cartons offer the optimum level of insulation with two layers of corrugate
